COUNTY BOARD IN ANNUAL SESSION

Federor, Supervisor---New Janitor Elected---Superintendent Gets Raise---Other Business

The postponed annual meeting of the county board convened Monday afternoon and is still in session.

After reading the minutes of the previous meeting the following officers were elected:

Frank Federor, Supervisor of Assessments in place of Carl Krueger, resigned.

Peter Doyle, Poor Commissioner. Thos. O'Hare, Janitor at Court House.

County Superintendent of Schools, M. V. Boyce read his report which was put on file. The county Superintendent's salary was changed from eight hundred dollars a year and traveling and incidental expenses to one thousand dollars a year and expenses.

The board then took up the percentage apportionment of taxes of the various towns, villages and city of Rhinelander and made little change from that of a year ago. It does not seem advisable to publish the ratio as there may be another adjustment before the board adjourns. This is the long session of the board and there is much business to do but the work is being handled rapidly.

NOT NECESSARY TO AMPUTATE.

Mrs. Chas. Harper of Mercer spent last Thursday with her husband who is a patient at St. Mary's hospital. The man was severely injured while hunting in the woods near his home village three weeks ago. The shot took effect in the left leg and it was at first thought that amputation of the limb would be necessary. Although all of last week he was in a critical condition he has since showed signs of marked improvement and the physicians in charge are of the opinion that the operation can be avoided.

WOODSMAN KILLED BY FALLING LOGS

Wrapper on Timbers Gives Out Fatally Injuring Geo. Salwisky---Ed. Baker Badly Hurt.

Edward Salwisky died at St. Mary's hospital late Thursday night from injuries received while loading logs on cars at Hobson that afternoon. His fellow workman, Geo. Baker, is an inmate of the hospital suffering with a broken leg as a result of the same accident.

The men were in the employ of the Robbins Lumber Company. With other members of the crew they were engaged in operating a steam loader in transferring logs from cars on the narrow gauge railway to cars on the Soo siding at Hobson. The men had just finished the loading of one car and were pushing it down the track to make place for an empty flat. Salwisky and Baker were at the side of the loaded car when the wrapper chain suddenly gave out allowing the logs to fall. One of the timbers knocked Salwisky to the ground and rolled across his breast crushing his ribs and causing other internal injuries. Baker was hit on the leg by the end of the log breaking the bone in two places.

Thru the efforts of the Robbins company a train bearing the injured workmen was immediately despatched to this city. At the hospital an examination of the men's injuries revealed the fact that Salwisky was so badly hurt that his life could not be saved. Everything possible was done to ease the man's sufferings until death came to his relief a few hours later.

Salwisky was twenty-five years of age. His home was at Menominee, Mich., and the remains were shipped to that city.

Baker is resting easy although he will be a patient at the hospital for the most of the winter.

DEER DELAY THE TRAIN.

There were two hundred and forty-six deer on a south bound Northwestern passenger train a few days ago. Most of these carcasses were taken on at Monico Junction and came down on the Watersmeet branch. It required over an hour to transfer the deer from one train to the other. This is by far the heaviest shipment of deer during the season.

BITES HAND OF GIVER.

Thos. McGuire Attacked by Stranger to Whom He Offered Money.

Touched by the appeal of a hungry stranger, who begged money for something to eat, Thomas McGuire reached into his pocket and handed the fellow a quarter. It was then that the man, with the sudden ferocity of a wild beast, grabbed McGuire's wrist and savagely bit him. The wound inflicted was a frightful one, a large piece having been removed from the fleshy part of the hand by the man's sharp teeth.

The attack was made in a local hotel and maddened with pain McGuire pounced upon the fellow, and gave him a severe beating. The police were notified but upon their arrival the man had disappeared. He was a total stranger to McGuire and the cause for the attack is unknown. He was poorly dressed. It is the opinion of some that he is a maniac escaped from some asylum. McGuire had his injury dressed by a physician and it is thought that no bad results will follow.

DEATH SUMMONS PIONEER CITIZEN

Dan Gagen of Three Lakes, Came to Northern Wisconsin Sixty Years Ago.

In the death of Dan Gagen, Northern Wisconsin loses one of its best known and most picturesque characters, a pioneer who had resided in this part of the state for sixty years.

Dan Gagen was a native of England and came to America in 1847. For about a year he worked in the copper mines in Michigan after which he came to Eagle River. There he established a trading post and carried on an extensive business with the Indians. He also engaged in logging. When Langlade county was organized he was made the first chairman of the county board and for many years was a member of that body. For over twelve years he had made Three Lakes his home. His last illness was of several months duration but he was a patient sufferer and bore his pain with great fortitude.

Much has been said and written regarding Dan Gagen and he has been the hero of many a legend. In the early days, when he came to Wisconsin, the only inhabitants were the red men. He became on friendly terms with the Indians and wooed and won a pretty dusky maiden. For a time he was in the service of the government as a mail carrier and made long and tedious journeys thru the wild and unbroken country. Often on these trips he met with many hardships, especially in the winter when the cold was intense and the snow retarded his progress. In after years he used to relate many interesting stories of his trying experiences. In Rhinelander the old gentleman had many friends and in no part of Northern Wisconsin is his death more regretted.

A wife and two sons, James of Antigo and Henry of Three Lakes survive him.

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

Bundy Lumber Company Gives Den Donckers $1,550—Was Suing For $25,000.

The case of Gustave Den Donckers, an inmate of the Lincoln County poor house, against the Bundy Lumber company, has been settled out of court.

Den Donckers was suing the company for $25,000 for injuries received while in the employ of the Worden company. The settlement was recently made and the amount paid the plaintiff by the company was $1,550. While going to work one day on the company's logging railway, two trains collided and Den Donckers was seriously hurt. His left leg became paralyzed from the accident. He claimed that the collision was due to negligence on the part of the employer. This occurred in 1905 and since that year Den Donckers has been confined in the almshouse.

He has now departed for his home in Belgium to spend the rest of his days.—Exchange.

NEW ROAD FOR ANTIGO.

The state rate commission will hear arguments December 14 on the application of the Wisconsin & Northern railroad company for a certificate of public convenience and necessity covering the Neopit-Phlox extension. It is generally believed that the certificate will be granted and that the extension will be completed at an early day. Within a year it is reported the road will build an extension to Antigo.

PHILLIPS, ALLEGED MURDERER, DEAD

Man Who Took the Life of Ole Johanson Is Killed In Nebraska.

According to dispatches to the daily press Edward Phillips, charged with the murder of Ole Johanson near Tomahawk Junction on May 2nd and who escaped from B. J. Bartleme, sheriff of Lincoln county, on May 7, at Tomahawk Junction, was killed Tuesday November 24 at Gothenberg, Neb. In what manner he was killed cannot be learned. In Gothenberg, the man was known as E. J. Adams. The body was shipped to Phillips' former home at Thorpe, this state, for burial.

Phillips and Johanson were in the employ of John Kelley of Cassian. The two men were driving along on a tote road when they became engaged in an altercation. Phillips unable to control his rage grabbed a stake from the wagon and hit his companion over the head. Johanson's skull was crushed and death was no doubt instantaneous. After committing the crime the murderer threw his victims body from the wagon to the side of the road and proceeded calmly on his journey. The body was discovered by Mr. Kelley who drove over the road a few minutes after. He later met Phillips, who unable to give a satisfactory account of his comrade's death was placed under arrest.

While in the Merrill jail he desired to plead guilty to the crime. He was being brought to this city by Sheriff Bartleme to appear before Judge Silverthorn, and, while waiting for the Soo limited train on the depot platform at Heaford Junction, broke away from the officer and disappeared in the darkness. The sheriff plunged into the woods in pursuit of him. Bartleme lost his way and for three days wandered in the forest without food or sleep. While in an exhausted condition he boarded a train and went to St. Paul. When he reached there he was suffering from nervous prostration and taken in charge by the authorities.

Stories were told of meeting Phillips in the woods, starving and half crazed, but this is the first heard of him from a reliable source since his escape.

CONTRACTORS SUE CITY FOR $6000

Firm That Built Fifth Ward School Starts Action to Recover Money On Contract.

Bartlett and Hoepfner, contractors of Eau Claire, Wisconsin, have sued the city for about six thousand dollars. This firm built the fifth ward school and were four months longer completing the building than the time specified. While the school board did not exact from the builders the full penalty named in the articles of agreement for their delay, they did deduct about a thousand dollars, and now the firm sets up a claim and sues for six thousand.

ENTITLED TO HERO MEDALS.

Rhinelander has two candidates for Carnegie medals in the persons of Donald McLaughlin and Master John Greenwood. Both are accredited with saving children from drowning. McLaughlin rescued the two Verge boys when they broke thru the ice below the Davenport street bridge and young Greenwood, at the risk of his own life, saved the Filice boy from a watery grave. Both were acts of heroism and McLaughlin and Greenwood are entitled to recognition from the Carnegie medal awarding committee. It is understood that their names will be presented before the body for consideration.

KILLED BY THE CARS.

The badly mangled body of a man was found on the St. Paul railway tracks near Minocqua one morning this week. The gruesome discovery was made by the crew of the Yawkey-Bissell logging train. Near the body lay several sticks of dynamite. It was later learned that the man's name was Thos. Pepera and that he had been employed on a farm. He had been to Minocqua, purchased explosives with which to blow out stumps, and was on his way back home.

DOGS ESCAPE FROM JAIL.

Deer Hunters Didn't Like Society So They Silently Stole Away.

On Thanksgiving day, Game wardens Martin Berg of this City and Michael Kleist of Kenosha arrested a party of well known Tomahawk men, who were caught hunting deer with dogs. Upon their promise to appear before the court the hunters were released and the dogs, two fancy deer hounds, were locked in a cell in the Tomahawk jail for safe keeping.

The animals evidently did not like the society in the jail, for a few hours later, when the wardens went to get the canines, it was found that they had made their escape. The door of the cell in which the dogs had been prisoners was still locked. The jailer claimed to know nothing whatever regarding the affair and the wardens bawling with anger are endeavoring to ferret out the mystery. They returned to Rhinelander Monday. While it is not known who released the dogs it is claimed that they are now in the possession of parties at Tomahawk.

August Zastrow, T. E. Nast, J. H. Knaggs and H. G. Fuller were taken to Merrill for their hearing and the case was continued until the 18th of this month.

WATER WORKS CASE BEFORE SANBORN

Court Makes Decision Regarding Hydrant Rentals Pending Appointment of Receiver.

The case of the Trust Company of America against the city of Rhinelander asking that a receiver be appointed for the city water works was tried before Judge Sanborn in the United States Court at Madison, last week. Attorneys S. S. Miller of this city and Butler of Madison were for the plaintiffs and city attorney H. F. Steel and Attorney George Green of Green Bay were for the defendants. Judge Sanborn decided that the city must include in its tax levy of this year a sufficient sum to pay all hydrant rentals now due and also a sufficient amount to pay hydrant rentals for 1909, pending the outcome of the suit or he should feel it his duty to appoint a receiver.

Attorney North of Green, Fairchild & North was at the council meeting Tuesday evening and at his suggestion two resolutions were introduced, one of which may be passed to comply with the suggestions. Both appear elsewhere in the columns of The New North.

CHICKEN THIEF IS FOILED.

Electric Alarm Prevents Raid On the Gilligan Hen House.

Only to the fact that Will Gilligan has an electric alarm attached to the door of his hen house was he saved from the ravages of a chicken thief.

One night this week, some "low down white man," whose mouth watered for a poultry dinner, attempted a raid on the coop. Just as he stealthily opened the door the alarm sounded within the Gilligan home warning the occupants. Turning on the electric lights, a man was seen hurrying over the fence in the rear end of the yard. It was impossible to learn his identity.

The alarm on this chicken coop is the invention of Mr. Gilligan. He has arranged an electric wire from the coop to his residence. As soon as the door is opened, even a quarter of an inch, a bell sounds in the house. Near the bell is a switch which turns on lights in the coop and back yard making the surroundings almost as bright as day. This is perhaps the only perfect chicken thief alarm in the country and Mr. Gilligan's device will no doubt be adopted by other poultry raisers.

TRAMPS DIDN'T RIDE.

Four tramps were ordered off the blind baggage of the south bound Northwestern passenger train in this city, Saturday morning. The train was stopped and the fellows jumped off. They ran around the engine and again boarded the car. This time the conductor appeared and the gang took to their heels toward the south side. The incident was an amusing one and furnished plenty of fun for the bystanders on the depot platform. Chief of Police Straub says that as the train carried the men into the city the crew should have been agreeable enough to have taken them out. They were thinly clad and evidently very anxious to reach a warmer climate.

NATURE TELLS YOU.

As Many a Rhinelander Reader Knows Too Well.

When the kidneys are sick, Nature tells you all about it. The urine is nature's calendar. Infrequent or too frequent action; Any urinary trouble tells of kidney ills. Doan's Kidney Pills cure all kidney ills.

Rhinelander people testify to this. James Leonard, 502 Fifth St. Merrill, Wis., says: "When I began using Doan's Kidney Pills, I was suffering from backache and had been for six months. I had tried several remedies, but was unable to receive relief. I saw from the condition of the secretions that my kidneys were disordered and deciding to try a kidney remedy, I procured Doan's Kidney Pills as I have seen them highly recommended. By the time I had finished the contents of one box I was entirely free from pain. I have had no return of the trouble since."

TO THE PUBLIC.

VOTERS AND CITIZENS OF THE COUNTY GENERALLY:

I wish to express at this time my sincere thanks to the voters and the public of Oneida county, for the honor conferred upon me in the office of sheriff. I assure you all that I feel deeply grateful for the honor and the confidence which is expressed in my election to this important office. In return I shall make good my promise made during the campaign, to assume personal charge of this office, and attention to the most careful performance of its duty in every detail. I might state at this time that my assistant in office will be Mr. N. T. Baldwin. His appointment, I am positive, is generally satisfactory, and in his selection I feel that the county secures a careful, honest and painstaking official. Myself and family leave our little town of Monico with many regrets, but we come to Rhinelander not as strangers. The warm hand of friendship which has always been characteristic of Rhinelander, is extended to us, and as we clasp it we trust that we may retain it, long after our term of office has expired. Assuring you again of my sincere thanks, and a hearty interest in all that is for the betterment of Rhinelander and Oneida county.

In addition to the above, to satisfy my patrons I wish to say to them, that I am still manager and proprietor of Hotel Northern and that it will be run and conducted under the same plan as heretofore. No matter who my assistants may be it will be kept up and any improvements in any way that can be made, I will gladly do it for the convenience of my patrons. If I had rented it, it would have been under the management of Jas. Wilson, but as my term of office only lasts for two years I deemed it best to control it myself.

Respectfully,
B. F. JILLSON.
Sheriff elect of Oneida County.

A Personal Appeal.

Foley's Honey and Tar costs you no more and has a record of forty years of cures.—J. J. Reardon.

The county board made a good choice in the election of Frank Federer for supervisor of assessments. Mr. Federer is a first class business man, has a broad acquaintance and makes a splendid official. We believe the board made no mistake in the selection of Mr. Federer for this important office.

It is a fitting tribute to the past service of Peter Doyle that he was re-elected county poor commissioner by acclamation. It is a well known fact that the poor farm is run in a thorough business like manner and the inmates receive the best of care. The buildings have the air of prosperity and much credit is due Mr. and Mrs. Doyle for their careful, painstaking services. We have much faith in the good judgment, honesty and business ability of the county board as a whole and regret that they should have played peanut politics in the rejection of the present janitor of the court house after his splendid service. Not a member who voted against him pretends he did it because the man had not given the best of satisfaction in all his work. We are well aware of the fact that men who have not quite satisfied their own consciences look for excuses, if they can not find them in the legitimate field of service they go outside and try to imagine them. This paper is in no sense criticizing the man the board did elect; we feel that efficient work should be rewarded by re-election.

TUBERCULOSIS STAMPS HERE.

The new holiday greeting stamps issued by the American Red Cross Society are now on sale in the City. The stamps sell for one cent each and the money gained from this source will be donated toward a fund to be used in checking the spread of that dread disease—tuberculosis, in Wisconsin. The Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis Association is at the head of the movement.

The stamps have just lately made their appearance but there has already been an enormous demand for them in all parts of the state. In many cities the public school children on request of the school boards have undertaken the sale of the stamps. No similar campaign in recent years has been for a more worthy purpose. Tuberculosis is spreading to an alarming degree and the public now has an opportunity to take an active part in assisting to wipe out this terrible plague with little real expense.

As Rhinelanders people are always ready and willing to lead their support to any good cause it should be an easy matter to dispose of thousands of the stamps in this City.

Ill Health Is More Expensive Than Any Cure.

This country is now filled with people who migrate across the continent in all directions seeking that which gold cannot buy. Nine-tenths of them are suffering from throat and lung trouble or chronic catarrh resulting from neglected colds, and spending fortunes vainly trying to regain lost health. Could every sufferer but undo the past and cure that first neglected cold, all this sorrow, pain, anxiety and expense could have been avoided. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures of colds, and can always be depended upon. Use it and the more serious disease may be avoided. For sale by E. L. Hinman & Co.

Those present report a merry time and all speak highly of the quality of music furnished by the Military Orchestra. Supper was served by the Royal Neighbors.

"The District Leader", will appear at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday evening, December 9. This will be the strongest attraction of the season. In the company there are fifty people including a large beauty chorus. Sixteen new song hits. Seats now on sale at City Shoe Store.

A Rhinelander man carried a card around with this on it until he saw us, and then gave it to us. The caption is: "No Prickers on These Berry Bushes." Once there was a grocer named Berry. He sent in his bill before it was due, and the person who received it wrote in reply: Berry, you have sent in your bill-Berry, before it was due-Berry. Upon my feelings you are a rasp-Berry. Your father, the elder-Berry, would not have been such a goose-Berry. But you needn't look so blue-Berry, for I don't care a straw-Berry, and if you write again before June-Berry, I'll mail you until you are black-Berry."

WHO SAID CHICKEN?

With the rapidity at which hon roosts are being raided in various parts of the City one would be led to believe that Rhinelander has a large colored population. This is not the case tho, so the thefts must be laid to the "cheap white trash" who are unable to control their ravenous appetites for chicken. It must be remembered that turkeys were high, as usual, this year, and that fact probably accounted for the large number of fowls confiscated on the night before Thanksgiving. To many people chicken tastes just as delicious as turkey especially when it can be secured without the expenditure of a single cent. On the south side several coops were entered and many fine birds removed from their roosts. There were also a few whole sale chicken thefts reported from the north side. If such offenders could be caught at their depredations and treated to charges of rock salt the evil might be dispensed with.

Mr. Hosmer informs us that he expects a car load of fine wrapping paper to arrive within a few days. All goods carried by the firm will be first class and will be sold direct to the dealers. The company not only expects to receive a big patronage in Rhinelander but will endeavor to draw business from all the towns within a radius of seventy-five miles.

NEW LAWRENCE COLLEGE.

Lawrence university hereafter will be known as Lawrence college. The change was decided upon at the quarterly meeting of the board of trustees which was held Wednesday, and it was made in deference to the recommendation of the Wisconsin Alumni association at its annual banquet in Milwaukee, Nov. 13. The trustees will issue a statement asking the press to refer to the institution in the future as Lawrence college.

A SEWING MACHINE STORY

"For a sewing machine agent to sell a whole consignment of another company's goods is something unusual," said the young man who smokes. "But that is what I have just done. I did it through the machinations of Mrs. Johnson Potter. Mrs. Potter is honest. She lives up to her word. When she came down to see about getting a machine she said some of the most astonishing things you ever heard come out of a woman's mouth."

"I don't want to rent a machine," she said, "neither do I want to buy one. I simply want to have one sent in for two or three weeks so I can get my spring sewing done. And I don't want to pay anything for it. I have spent all my money for material for new clothes and I have no money left to pay for a machine to make them on. I thought you might let me have one on trial."

"Mrs. Potter's extraordinary candor almost floored me."

"It is the usual supposition," I replied, cautiously, "that when we leave a machine at a house on trial the party intends to buy it eventually."

"I know it is," returned Mrs. Potter, airily, "but you have been in the business long enough to know by this time that half the people who get machines on those terms don't really intend to do any such thing. They simply wish to get the use of a machine for a few weeks free of cost and then send it back on the ground that it is unsatisfactory. The difference between these people and me is that I tell you the truth, and they don't. I don't want to buy, and say so; they don't want to buy, and say they do."

"I told Mrs. Potter that I appreciated her flat-footed honesty."

"But I can't see," said I, "where we come in. What do we get out of the deal?"

"Oh, as to that," said Mrs. Potter, "I intend to try to sell a machine for you. The woman in the flat across the hall is going to buy, and if you will send one of your machines around to the house this afternoon, so I can start right in sewing and show her what excellent work it does before she decides upon something else, I am quite sure I can persuade her to buy of you."

"As soon as Mrs. Potter got through talking I went back and told the manager and his assistants what she had said. We all agreed that Mrs. Potter was a curiosity, but we didn't know what to do with her."

"It is my opinion," said I, "that we ought to let her have a machine as a reward for her unparalleled truthfulness. Of course, I don't take any stock in that yarn of hers about trying to sell a machine for the use of her own. Nevertheless, I think we ought to accommodate her merely as an encouragement of veracity."

"At last I talked the manager around to my way of thinking."

"But don't let her have one of our machines," he said. "Put her off with a renter. She will never know the difference."

"The manager's suggestion fired my brain with a brilliant idea."

"What's the matter," I said, "with letting her have that second-hand affair made by the A. B. C. company that we got the other day in trade? We will never be able to do anything with it, and even if Mrs. Potter should smash it all to pieces we wouldn't be out anything."

"All right," said the manager. "It is your funeral. Fix her out any way you please."

"So Mrs. Potter got her machine. We heard nothing from her for three weeks. Then one day she came into the office. She brought seven women with her, and the way they all bowed and scraped and smiled at me actually made me dizzy."

"That machine you sent me is a treasure," said Mrs. Potter. "It does the loveliest work you ever saw in your life. All these ladies say they never saw such tuckings and stitching and homing, and they have decided to sell their old machines and buy new ones just like it. In fact, I am so pleased with it that I am going to buy one myself, although I can't see how I can afford it just now. We all live in the same building, and would like eight machines sent up to that address this afternoon."

"Mrs. Potter's wholesale order surprised me into an honesty that was outdone only by her own."

"But we do not handle that make of machine," I confessed. "We merely happened to have one on hand. But we can sell you our own machine at the same price."

"Mrs. Potter looked at the other women collectively and individually, and the whole bunch of them shook their heads."

"No, thank you," said Mrs. Potter. "We have set our hearts on that style of machine. If you don't handle them we will look up somebody who does, much as we should like to deal with you."

"And then, before I could put in another word in favor of our own stock, Mrs. Potter and her seven neighbors had marched out, bound for the headquarters of the rival concern. The manager had been standing nearby and had overheard the whole conversation. As soon as he caught his breath, he did a little figuring for my benefit."

"There's eight machines at $65 apiece gone up the spout," he said. "That comes of your idiotic plan of fooling a customer with a machine made by another company."

GINGER

By Bryon J. Stillma.

It was "Military day" at the "post," and Ginger had started in a field with five others on a long-distance race to Silver City and return, with poor show of a place against the younger horses of the officers.

So thought these interested in the race, but Chester Miles figured it out differently—he knew more of Ginger's pedigree and of his staying qualities. "I'm afraid Old Ginger has too much seasoning, Miles," spoke an army officer, when they were preparing for the race.

"Don't let him get a hotbox," shouted another.

"He's all right for the 'ginger-bred' or for The Gingerbread Man; but he's out of his class," cried a third.

"You'll be Miles behind, Chester," said a punster.

Chester Miles, cowboy and miner, smiled at the comments showered upon him and his horse; but he had confidence in Ginger's staying propensities, and he was going to prove it to the "smart set" of Central and to the "post." Ten years before Ginger had brought Chester Miles across the states to New Mexico and Chester knew his strong qualities and his powers of endurance. Many times, also, he and his faithful horse had made journeys that gave him confidence in entering him for the event.

He had ridden him in several short dashes at previous army races, but had always come out a bad loser. Now he was anxious to "make good."

"Military day" was a great day at the "post," a yearly holiday of much importance, giving pleasure to both soldier and citizen. Extra provisions were made for their comfort and entertainment, a "grand stand" had been erected on the wide campus near the town, and it afforded the spectators a good view of the sports.

Before mounting for the race, Miles had an interview with Ginger. He threw his arms about the horse's neck and spoke to him meditatively: "You are going to run the race of your life, old boy, and if you win there will be two loving arms to round your necks before many days, 'way back in dear old Kentucky. If we lose, well, we'll have to fight it out here till we can make a strike and get back home. So, if you want to eat some bluegrass, show them that you still have some blue blood in your veins—by winning this race."

Ginger seemed to know what was expected of him; for he had shown horse-sense at many critical times in the past. He pricked up his ears as if he realized his responsibilities. The start was made, with Ginger far in the rear.

"Turn him 'round, Ches; he's a chestnut in more ways than one," some one shouted: "a horse-chestnut."

Up the canyon the horses soon disappeared from view, and the spectators turned to minor events that took up their time and interest.

As the time approached for the horses to return and the first echo came to the audience of their wild race down the gorge, a breathless silence fell over the waiting pleasure-seekers.

Suddenly a low murmur—like the faint echo of falling waters, scarcely audible—told them of the approaching horses.

Now they became recognizable; eager eyes were scanning the distance to see the foremost rider. The officer with the glass shouts: "Hurrah! It's Old Ginger!"

"Can it be possible?"

"Yes, it's Ginger! Hurrah for Ginger!"

"Don't flunk now, old hoss! Blue blood tells in horses, if it don't count for much in the human!"

"By ginger, if it ain't Ginger!"

"A bag of dust on Ginger! Come up with your buckskin!"

These and other exclamations came freely, rapidly.

Faster and faster and faster came the riders down the narrow road, at moments hidden from view by the dust encircling them in their mad pace. Gray clouds were quickly formed by the horses' hoofs. They were nearing the finish. Ginger forges farther ahead; he comes down the home stretch like an automatic figure moving with clock-work regularity. Miles doesn't use the spurs—there is no need of urging his horse. Ginger had learned his lesson well years ago in old Kentucky: all that his rider and owner had to do was to sit and watch his success. With wild enthusiasm the people saw horse and horseman dash past the wire and finish a rod ahead of their nearest contestant, a race that was a seven days' wonder to the mingling town of Central New Mexico.

That's why things were flying in the air: "Old Ginger" (the town horse) had won the purse, made up by the soldiers, miners and townsmen. And a generous one, too.

But their enthusiasm was soon hushed by the conduct of Ginger.

As Chester started to lead him away, all could see there was something the matter; Ginger was wavering, his knees trembled, and his whole form shook as if with ague. Then the winner sank to the ground as if paralyzed.

Miles tried to get him to his feet again, but Ginger had made his "last stand." He looked at his master as if to say: "When those loving arms go 'round you, back in Old Kentucky, think of me." Then he rolled over at his owner's feet.

Ginger had won the race of his life, and it had cost him that too.

The following brief "take off" on Longfellow's Psalm of Life has lately been going the rounds of the press: Lives of poor men oft remind us. Honest toil don't stand a chance, The more we work we leave behind us. Bigger patches on our pants. On our pants once new and glossy. Patches are of different hue. All because subscribers linger. And won't pay up what is due. Then let 'all be up and doing, Send in your mite, however small, Or when the blasts of winter strike us We will have no pants at all!

WORK ON GARDNER DAM.

Tom Morrissey who is employed on contract work out at the Gardner Dam reports that the work of clearing away the stumps and underbrush preparatory to starting work on the dam proper is about three quarters finished. Mr. Morrissey says that he hardly expects that work on the dam will be started before the first of July. About one hundred and twenty-five men are now employed in the clearing away of the stumps and timber. It is estimated that about $15,000 has already been expended on the project. —Antigo Republican.

ROEHR IS RECOVERING.

Former Senator Julius E. Roehr of Milwaukee, who was accidentally shot in the shoulder while deer hunting near Arbor Vitae, continues to improve in the Milwaukee hospital, where he is a patient. The physicians believe that he will be able to go to his home in about three weeks. In Rhinelander, Mr. Roehr has several friends who are pleased to learn that he is recovering.

RESIGNS TO ENTER RACE.

L. W. Wood, Neillsville, Inspector of rural schools in Wisconsin, tendered his resignation at Madison yesterday to State Superintendent of Public Instruction C. P. Cary in order to enter the race for state superintendent in the April election.

African Races.

The indigenous races of Africa are considered to be four in number, namely: The negroes proper, who occupy a central zone, stretching from the Atlantic to the Egyptian Sudan, and who comprise an enormous number of diverse tribes; the Fulahs (with whom the Nubians are associated), settled mainly between Lake Chad and the Niger; the Bantus, who occupy the whole south, except its extremity, and the Hottentots, who are in that extreme southern region. Some anthropologists include the Kafirs and Bechuanas as Bantu tribes. The north and northeast are occupied by Semitic and Hamitic races, the latter including Abyssinians and Gallas.

More Psychology.

"Lady," said Plodding Pete, as he finished the luncheon which had been provided, "I said I'd do me best to help out wid de wood-choppla."

"That's what you said."

"An' I'm a man of me word."

"Then why don't you reach for the ax and go to work?"

"Lady, I merely took de contract. I didn't guarantee to do de work myself. I'm a telephatic wood-chopper, an' if you don't disturb me while I'm concentratin' my thoughts I'll surprise you. Jes' remember, if anybody walks up like he's half awake an' goes to work on dat wood, dat I'm de grateful party who mesmerized him."

Wasted Efforts.

One evening when Tommy, aged five, was having his daily bath his nurse was trying, with small success, to scrub his grimy little knees.

After watching her for some time he said, patronizingly:

"Never mind, Bertha. Don't you know that's the dark meat, anyway?" —Harper's Monthly.

The sudden cold change in the weather has resulted in making business brisk for the merchants of the city. People who delayed purchasing their winter garments with the hope that they would have little use for them this season, are forced to buy these goods at last. There has been a steady demand for overcoats, furs, mittens and etc., and the employees of the stores have been kept unusually busy waiting on the trade.

he bears a hoodooed life. Early last spring he caught his foot under a accident when he fell from great force onto a sharp edged rock fracturing both knee caps. He was laid up for able to attend to his work again.

Having had his share of "misfortune,"
George hopes that the fates will cease handing him lemons for the time at least.

Mrs. E. W. Brooks, 5115 S. Steele St., South Tacoma, Wash., writes:
"I want to recommend Peruna to mothers. When my little girl came, I felt very weak and exhausted, and it seemed that I could not regain my strength."

"My mother bought me a bottle of Peruna, after I had tried several other much advertised remedies without relief. I had little faith, as I was very weak, but within a week after I had commenced taking Peruna I was like a different woman."

"New life and vitality seemed to come each day until in a few weeks I was in fine health and a happy woman. Thanks to your splendid medicine, I have enjoyed good health for several years. I always keep Peruna on hand, as a few doses will set me right when I am feeling badly."

several days, then his ears would run pro-

"The last year I thought he had almost lost his hearing and had a local physician treating him for about six weeks."

the adjourned regular meeting of said Council to be held on the 8th day of Dec. 1908. GUST SWEDBERG, City Clerk

United States Circuit Court, Western District of Wisconsin. The Trust Company of America, vs. The City of Rhinelander.

The motion of complainant for the appointment of a receiver having come on to be heard upon the pleadings, affidavits and petition of complaint and answer thereto of defendant, and having been argued by the solicitors of the parties, and it appearing that said motion was noticed for Nov. 10, 1908, and its hearing postponed with an agreement that the appointment of a receiver, if any should be appointed was to be as of Nov. 10.

It is thereupon ordered that complainant is entitled to the appointment of a receiver, unless defendant shall exercise the election herein provided for.

An order will be hereafter entered appointing the City Treasurer of defendant receiver of the water works plant described in the bill, with the usual powers of receiver, with power to issue receiver's certificates on short time to procure funds, if necessary, with which to operate the plant, and make repairs, to retain an attorney and apply for further direction. But the City may at its election to be declared by ordinance, passed within ten days of Dec. 1, 1908, levy a tax upon all taxable property of the city sufficient to raise the amount of hydrant rentals agreed to be paid by the ordinance of the Town of Pelican referred to in the pleadings, less any funds now in the city treasurer collected from previous levies on account of hydrant rental, if any, and at the same time levying one year's hydrant rental for 1908, payable under such ordinance in 1909.

Such rentals, when collected, to be held by the City in trust until final decree or further order.

If such ordinance be passed the city shall also collect and retain under the same trust, all net income from said plant, consisting of moneys received from private consumers over and above cost of operation, in order that the lien of complaint, if any there be, may be preserved.

In case the City shall not pass such an ordinance on or before Dec. 10, 1908, a receiver is to be appointed by further order as herein provided for, as of Nov. 10, 1908.

The receiver, if one be appointed, or the complainant in any event, may apply for further order or direction as to the terms on which service is to be furnished the city from said works. A. L. SANBORN, Judge.

ORDINANCE.

An Ordinance binding the City of Rhinelander, Wisconsin, to pay certain sums of money to the Trust Company of America.

Whereas, A suit is now pending in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Western District of Wisconsin, wherein the Trust Company of America is complainant; and the City of Rhinelander is defendant, in which suit the complainant has applied for the appointment of a receiver of the water works plant described in the bill of complaint in said cause, and an order having been entered by said court in said suit on the 28th day of November, 1908, a copy of which is hereto attached, marked Exhibit "A" and made a part hereof, and

Whereas, said City is willing to bind itself to pay such a sum as will equal the amount of money which would come into the trust fund provided for in said order were the City to proceed under the option therein granted,

Now, therefore, the Common Council of the City of Rhinelander do ordain as follows:—

Section 1.—The City of Rhinelander hereby binds itself to pay, and acknowledges itself under the legal obligation to pay, to said Trust Company of America, complainant, whatever amount or amounts may, in the final decree in said suit, be found due and payable as interest on the bonds referred to in said bill, or as hydrant rental agreed to be paid by the said ordinance of the Town of Pelican, or as the net income from said plant from domestic service, and which the court determines the said City ought to pay as a condition of redemption in said suit.

Section 2.—This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage, approval and publication.

CURES CATARRH.

J. J. Reardon Will Furnish The Medicines Free In Every Case Where They Fail To Cure Catarrh.

Neglect or pessimism we believe is the greatest enemy the public have to contend when applied to the loss or recovery of health. Practically every case of consumption might have been cured if hope had been maintained and proper treatment had been resorted to at the first symptom of the disease. Until the advanced stage is reached, consumption is curable. Catarrh is responsible, we believe, for every case of consumption. It is about Catarrh we want to talk to you to-day. Incidentally consumption, since the two are so closely allied.

Mrs. McRaney's Experience.
Mrs. M. McRaney, Prentiss, Miss., writes: "I was confined to my bed for three months with kidney and bladder trouble, and was treated by two physicians but failed to get relief. No human tongue can tell how I suffered, and I had given up hope of ever getting well until I began taking Foley's Kidney Remedy. After taking two bottles I felt like a new person, and feel it my duty to tell suffering women what Foley's Kidney Remedy did for me.—J. J. Reardon.

VINOL CURES CHRONIC COUGHS, COLDS AND BRONCHITIS

After Other Remedies Fail

"I have been troubled with a chronic cold and bronchitis for a long time and have tried many remedies without finding relief. Through the kind suggestion of a friend I tried Vinol, and after taking four bottles, am entirely cured." A. H. Wilde, 733-8th Avenue, Minneapolis, Minn.

B. McDonald, 147 W. Congress St. Paul, Minn., writes: "I contracted a severe cold last winter and thought I would never get rid of it. I tried Vinol as a last resort, and it has completely cured me."

Vinol combines two world-famed tonics, the healing, medicinal properties of cod liver oil and tonic iron, deliciously palatable and agreeable to the weakest stomach. For this reason, Vinol is unexcelled as a strength-builder for old people, delicate children, weak and run-down persons, after sickness and for Chronic Coughs, Colds and Bronchitis.

Governor Takes Steps to Check Foot and Mouth Disease.

Governor Davidson, Tuesday, issued the following proclamation:

"Whereas, it has been determined by the United States department of agriculture that a contagious communicable disease known as 'foot and mouth' disease exists among the livestock in the states of Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania and Maryland, and,

"Whereas, the state veterinarian of Wisconsin has reported to me that he has reason to believe that there is danger of the introduction in this state of such contagious communicable disease now prevailing in such states, and,

"Whereas, the veterinarian has investigated the conditions existing in such states with reference to said disease and recommended that the importation into this state of bovine cattle, sheep and swine be prohibited from said states, now therefore,

"Know ye that in consideration of the premises, I, James O. Davidson, governor of the state of Wisconsin, under the provisions of Section 1402c, Wisconsin statutes for 1908, do hereby prohibit the importation into this state from Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, any bovine cattle, swine or sheep except under restrictions as the state veterinarian may make.

In witness thereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the state of Wisconsin to be affixed."

BUSINESS COLLEGE.

Miss Keneley of Minocqua made the Business College a short call last week.

Earl Cannon of Minocqua and Logan Sanderson of Rhinelander enrolled in the day school Monday.

We have had several calls for office help but as our school is only in its infancy we have been unable to fill the positions.

New classes will be formed in the following branches after the Christmas holidays: arithmetic, grammar, commercial law and correspondence.

We appreciate the presence of a hero in our midst, in the personage of Donald McLaughlin. Mr. McLaughlin was unable to be in school a part of last week, owing to a severe cold contracted in the rescue of the two little Verage boys from drowning. We feel that much praise is due him.

There Is No Economy in Buying by Mail

WHY

Because few stove buyers stop to think of the risk they run in buying a stove by mail on the unsight unseen plan. They are caught by extravagant claims of far away unknown makers who try to make it appear that the local merchant is asking extortionate prices. If buyers will remember that whatever you buy or wherever you buy it, you only get what you pay for, you will not be fooled by such claims. Thousands of stove buyers who have purchased a stove from mail order houses can tell you they were deluded by the "something for nothing" bait and paid dearly for an inferior unsatisfactory article.

We Want You to Call and See Our Stock and Learn Our Prices.

We will soon convince you that we offer you the best values in stoves, and that the economy order buying is a delusion and snare. Learn both sides of the story and if we cannot demonstrate the TRUTH of our assertions, buy elsewhere and there will be no hard feelings, as you have given your local dealers the chance to convince you that he is giving you full value for your money.

The Rhinelander basket ball team failed to show up in this city for its advertised game with the local team last night, and a great many persons were disappointed. "More than" that, the delinquents sent no explanation of their failure to come, which circumstance leaves us free to inquire. If this is not a decided case of cold feet.—Crandor, Echo.
